

SCYMF Quarterly Gathering Booking Signing

Sarah Katreen Hoggatt will be signing copies of her two new books, When the Ink Runs Dry and When the Questions Come.

When the Ink Runs Dry

"This book reveals hidden rooms in the mansion of time where writer and reader meet to share consolations of thought. Poem by poem, this book will open doors to those rooms where you may seek who you are behind all frenzied obligation and haste." —Kim Stafford, author of As the Sky Begins to Change (Red Hen Press, 2024)

When the Questions Come

"This collection is a must-read for those on the path of deconstructing and reconstructing the world of their souls. Each poem is a companion for this journey, offering resonant and timely insights. Beautifully written, these words will stay with you long after the last page." —Sara Cunningham, author of How We Sleep at Night

Sarah is a direct member of Sierra-Cascades and has served as its co-clerk.
